

All Summer Projects participants (including mentors, students and organizers) are required to agree with the following code of conduct.

You are required to be respectful and ensure that the people around you are being respected. In particular, all forms of harassing behavior are strictly forbidden. For purposes of clarity, harassment includes, but is not strictly limited to: offensive verbal comments related to gender, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, religion; displaying or sharing sexual images; deliberate intimidation and bullying; stalking or following; harassing photography or recording; sustained disruption of talks or other events; inappropriate physical contact; and unwelcome sexual attention.

As organizers, we are dedicated to providing a harassment-free experience for all the participants. We will not tolerate any kind of offensive or harassing behavior. Upon violation of these conditions, we will make sure to warn and/or expel from the program the harassers.

If you are being harassed, or see someone else being harassed, or have any other concerns while at the event, please tell one of the organizers or a staff member immediately privately - in person, by email, or by phone (see info page).

Let's have a respectful and enjoyable Summer Project Week!
